MORTON'S BLOCK SALT, A MAJOR IMPROVEMENT IN AGRICULTURE

Put salt where stock can find it, you make automatic the important duty of salting. The salt lick is the animal's natural way of taking salt, as all experienced hunters know.

The salt in Morton's Blocks is the same pure crystal found in our famous table salt. It's merely made convenient by being compressed under terrific pressure into blocks that withstand climatic conditions and remain economical to the end.

Keep a supply always on hand.

COMMON PEOPLE

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Missouri State Organization for Progressive Political Action

Jefferson City, Missouri

October 25th, 1922

Honorable J. Scott Wolff,

Candidate for Congress, 13th District,

Festus, Missouri.

Dear Mr. Wolff:

We note with pleasure that you are a candidate for Congress from the 13th District.

In our investigation we find that you have been uniformly fair to the farmer, to labor and the common people in general, and that you stand for equal rights to all and special privileges to none. Therefore, we heartily endorse and commend your candidacy to the favorable consideration of organized farm and labor groups and other progressive voters in your District, and pledge to you every measure of cooperation for your election; knowing as we do that your election to represent the people of your District in Congress, the interest of the common people in general will be honestly represented by you.

Wishing you every measure of success, we remain,

Sincerely yours,

R. T. Wood.

H. S. Kratzinger.

Chas. E. Lindquist.

R. E. Moon.

S. H. Williams.

Congressman Marion E. Rhodes, who aspires for re-election from the 13th District, has asked the newspapers of the 13th District, that is some of them, to refute in the last issue before the election some of the charges which have been made against his official record. It is significant that the refutation is to be made in the last issue of the papers before the election because it may appear later that the refutation itself is false, tho it would be too late to damage Mr. Rhodes for the election would be over.

Fortunately for the people of the 13th Missouri District who abhor adroit and tricky campaign methods the Journal-Banner has come into possession of Mr. Rhodes' rather weak denial of some of the charges which have been leveled at him and will take this opportunity of throwing the white light of publicity upon them.

It has been charged among other things that Mr. Rhodes had his wife on the payroll of the government as one of his secretaries at a salary of $1440 per year. To refute this Mr. Rhodes has produced a statement from the clerk of the National House of Representatives which says that the records of Congress "do not show that Mrs. Annie P. Rhodes is employed as a clerk to a member or in any other capacity." It will be noticed, however, that nothing is said which would indicate that Mrs. Annie P. Rhodes has not been on the payroll in the past. Is it not barely possible that Mrs. Rhodes has been dropped from the payroll merely temporarily to be restored after the election is past? The New York World in its issue of Tuesday, June 27th, 1922, says that Mrs. Annie P. Rhodes, wife of Marion E. Rhodes, was on the government salary as one of his clerks at a salary of $1440 per year. It goes further and says that "a man secretary does all of the work." If this charge made four months ago by one of the largest newspapers of the United States is false, why did not Mr. Rhodes sooner deny it?

While denying that his wife Mrs. Rhodes is on the payroll, Mr. Rhodes admits that his son is on the payroll at a salary of $1200 a year. Pretty soft for the Rhodes family. $7500 annual salary with other perquisites for Marion, $1440 for Annie P. and $1200 for Junior. Mr. Rhodes would also have gone further and told of a brother-in-law, J. G. McGlothlin, employed in the Food and Drug Department of Missouri at a salary of $2800 per year, also of Mrs. McGlothlin, a sister of Mr. Rhodes, employed in the same department at a salary of $1200 a year. We repeat, pretty soft for the Rhodes family.

Mr. Rhodes also denies that he voted for the Ship Subsidy bill. His denial is true for the Ship Subsidy bill has not been yet voted on by the House of Representatives. He will not deny, however, that he favors the bill nor that his vote has already been pledged. He favors giving millions of the taxpayers money to the shipowner in order that they may have a profit on their business, but he has not suggested a subsidy for the farmer who is many times more needy and deserving.

Mr. Rhodes also denies being a recipient of any part of the Lowden campaign fund. Sworn testimony before the Lowden congressional investigation committee shows that $200 of the fund went to Marion E. Rhodes of Potosi. If this testimony is untrue why did not Mr. Rhodes go before the investigation committee and deny it.

Mr. Rhodes is not deserving of re-election. There is nothing in his four period record to recommend it. The chief interest that he has served has been his own interest. A cunning, adroit, demagogic campaigner, he has met with more success than he deserves.

It is now time that he is retired to private life and that he and his family be divorced from the public crib.

We notice that the paid advertisements of Marion E. Rhodes—giving his labor record, do not call to the attention of the working man—that on every occasion where he has had a chance to vote on the propositions regulating the hours of labor, Mr. Rhodes is at all times recorded as not voting. It shows that at heart Mr. Rhodes does not believe in the eight-hour day. You might just as well vote against the working man as dodge the vote. Mr. Rhodes.

Wolff's record shows he is for the Common People all the time.

J. Scott Wolff.

IN THE ARTICLE CALLED "FOOTBALL NOT A CIVILIZED GAME"

We, the undersigned alumni of Farmington High School, at present students in the University of Missouri, desire to enter our protest against the ungentlemanly, unsportsmanlike, and absolutely unprovoked abuse directed at the football enthusiasts of Farmington and the people of Sikeston, which appeared in The Farmington Times of October 29, 1922. We hold that football is a gentleman's game, and that it requires gentleness and sportsmen to enjoy it. We deplore the shortsightedness and lack of good breeding which prompts a citizen of Farmington to publish slanderous statements concerning the people of Sikeston, even though the truth may be that their sportsmanship does not always coincide with our idea of it. We are convinced that the venom which inspires such rude and inexcusable attacks through the press upon the good people of Sikeston is unworthy of toleration in our community. We contend that the way to combat mistreatment is not to passionately submit to savage instinct, expressed in vilifying abuse. We believe that the spirit which prompts such an outburst as was published in The Times of above date is the same spirit which prompts unsportsmanlike conduct on the foot ball field.

We do not consider it worthy of our attention to enter upon a defense of football as a sport. Its prevalence over the country, and the fact that it has been for years the leading inter-scholastic and intercollegiate sport are proof enough to our minds of its right to retain its place.

We desire to commend the professional and business men of Farmington for their whole-hearted and enthusiastic support of the foot ball team of Farmington High School. We consider them the men upon whom the duty of developing the city as a "community of churches and schools" devolves. We reiterate our implicit faith in them, and pledge to them whatever assistance we are capable of. We again deplore the fact that there are still a few invertebrate and irreconcilable knickers in the community, striving to prevent or undo every praiseworthy step in the direction of civic improvement. We urge upon them the virtue of silence, and pray that their time may decrease.

MEETING OF S. E. MO. OSTEOPATHIC ASSOCIATION

On Tuesday and Wednesday of this week the Southeast Missouri Osteopathic Association held a very successful convention in Farmington, the principal meetings being held at the offices of Drs. J. A. and Sylvia E. Overton. A number of papers relating to different phases of the practice were read, and discussed, and a round table discussion on Osteopathy in the treatment of Acute Diseases brought forth many interesting and helpful discussions.

Dr. J. H. Crenshaw, Surgeon in Chief of the Liberty Hospital, St. Louis, and Dr. Q. L. Drennan, Osteopath of the same institution, held instructive surgical and general clinics, while Dr. E. J. Gahan, of Perryville, demonstrated the latest methods of removing tonsils and doing some minor surgical work as well. Miss Mildred Mattingly, of the Midway Hospital, St. Louis, acted as surgical nurse during the clinic.

A most pleasing feature of the convention was a splendid banquet given on Tuesday evening, prepared by the Ladies Aid of the M. E. Church, South. The tables were artistically decorated in Hallowe'en effects.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

The evenness of performance so often remarked in Dodge Brothers Motor Cars is due, in no small part, to the thoroughness with which each unit is inspected during the process of manufacture and assembly.

A trained staff of 800 experts is employed in this work alone, and approximately 5285 individual inspections are made on each car.

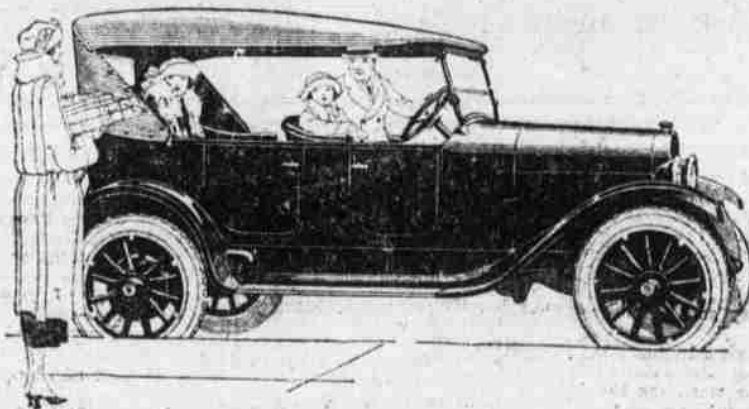

So exacting and rigid are the standards applied to these inspections that the slightest variation either in workmanship or material is instantly discovered and rejected.

Dodge Brothers are almost over-scrupulous in their constant aim to make each car as sound and perfect as is humanly possible.

The price is $1085.00 delivered
